Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 25 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Showers in north and west, dry and bright elsewhere.

Today:
Occasional showers in the west and north, wintry on hills. Most of the Central Belt and the east will be dry with some good spells of sunshine. Rather cold again.

Tonight:
A few wintry showers across the far north, and possibly across some central and southern areas. Otherwise dry with a widespread frost, locally severe in the north.

Tuesday:
Dry morning. Rain and sleet with snow on hills extending east in the afternoon, although the far north may remain dry. Occasional snow showers across the Northern Isles.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mainly dry, cold and cloudy on Wednesday, Northern Isles brighter. Further bands of rain and high ground snow spreading northeast on Thursday and Friday, but Northern Isles mainly dry.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.